INTRODUCTION

Coins and medals provide mankind with one of its most enduring archive forms. Since the early days of recorded world history they have added a high degree of permanence to the chronicling of outstanding events, people and places of historical note.

These small metallic discs are masterpieces of art in miniature which individually relate the essence of a given subject. Coins on the one hand also serve man's requirement for a monetary vehicle, while medals are reserved to record never to be forgotten special occasions.

As a hobby, the collecting of these artifacts dates back to the glory days of Rome. Although once a hobby restricted to kings, today the pursuit of numismatics has become a natural instinct for millions around the world.

The attractions which draw man to the hobby of coin and medal collecting are as diverse as the subjects are varied. It's a pastime that excites the individual's curiosity, challenging him to absorb the knowledge imparted upon the small circular, bas-relief surfaces by the sculptor's master strokes.

A single acquisition is often sufficient to entice an individual to a lifelong pursuit of the hobby. All of the beauty, significance and historical impact of the numismatic objects which are encountered can not be fully realized, however, unless the collector has at hand an adequate chronicle of his treasures.

For hundreds of years modern man has focused his penchant for careful accounting, categorizing, cataloguing and evaluation on the extinct and contemporary metallic relics of monetary systems. Except for treasures yet unfound or those lost forever, history's greater and lesser moments are neatly pigeonholed for ready reference, documented in neat catalog rows, along with the what, why, when and "how much is it worth?"

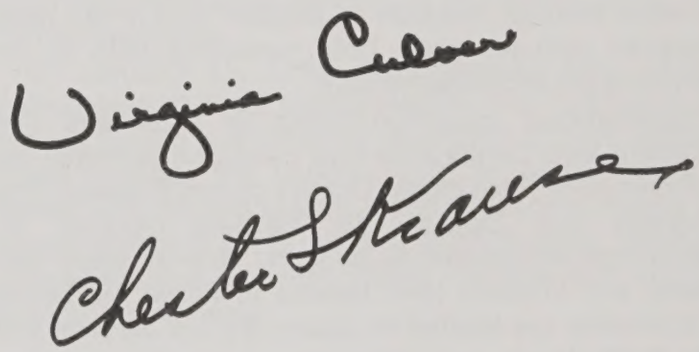

With all that accomplished, it was a natural and logical step for the cataloguer to turn his talents to medals, which equal — and often surpass — coins as reliable chroniclers of events and men. Today, there are many works that list the medallic mementos that, in some cases, provide the sole record of deeds and doers long dead.

The object of such catalogs — as with any numismatic guide — is to list for reference a particular category or grouping of issues, along with valuations derived from market prices prevailing at the time the guide is produced. If the cataloguer has done his job well, the guide serves as a valuable collector's tool for research and as a basis for determining the dollar value of a collection.

In the medallic art field an intense interest has developed for Franklin Mint issues over the past ten years. This interest has drawn into focus the demand, recognized by Krause Publications, for an objective and reliable guidebook to serve the needs of professionals, long time collectors and those new to the calling.

Presenting a guidebook which can accurately reflect today's constantly fluctuating numismatic markets can be a demanding task. Medal values which are on the mark one day may quickly become obsolete. Values also vary by geographical locale and a variety of other factors, including the peculiar whims of individual collectors.

In this, the GUIDEBOOK OF FRANKLIN MINT ISSUES, the authors have considered all these factors. Valuations have been determined by a nationwide panel of dealers and collectors. Readers and collectors should remember that any guide is only an aid to determining the value of subject issues. Actual selling prices may vary by locality, time and circumstances.

THE FRANKLIN MINT

The Franklin Mint at Franklin Center, Pa., is the world's largest private mint, the most prolific font of medallic art forms, and the only private facllity in the United States that produces coin for foreign governments. It was founded in 1965 by Joseph Segel, whose first venture into the field of medallic art bore fruit as the National Commemorative Society issues. Popular acceptance of the series prompted Segel to form the General Numismatics Corporation, forerunner of The Franklin Mint.

The Franklin Mint's early growth benefited greatly from the U.S. coin shortage of the mid-1960s which drove silver dollars out of circulation and off the gaming tables of the Nevada casinos, creating a demand for token substitutes. Commencing in July, 1965, and carrying on through the next four years the firm supplied the major Nevada casinos and overseas gaming houses with millions of individualized gaming tokens ranging in value from 50c through $5.

Another innovative idea which provided The Franklin Mint with a substantial boost in its early years was the development of the medallic greeting card. This distinctive card bearing an encased medal on one of the inside panels, with the cover panel die cut to allow the medal to show through, became so popular that it has been renewed annually since 1965, providing both an interesting gift and collector item.

International expansion began in 1969, and The Franklin Mint Corporation now owns and operates the John Pinches (Medallists) Ltd. of London, England; The Franklin Mint Canada Ltd., Rexdale, Ontario; International Munzkunst G. m. b. H., Munich, West Germany, and Franklin Mint Italiana in Rome. Marketing subsidiaries are located in Japan, Mexico, Sweden and the Netherlands, and cooperative marketing activities operate in Spain and Australia.

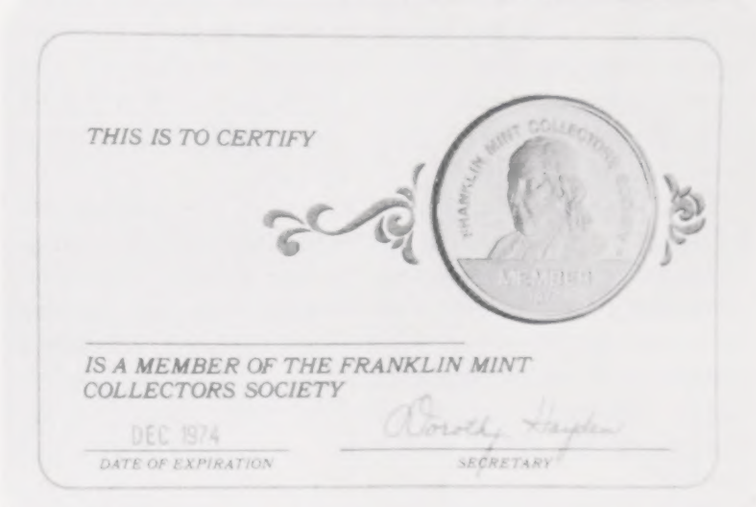

As The Franklin Mint's reputation for quality medallic art grew, so did its list of distinguished customers. Limited edition commemoratives have been designed and minted for the United Nations, the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, the U.S. Olympic Committee, the National Governors Conference, Daughters of the American Revolution, National Audubon Society, and the Bicentennial Council of the Thirteen Original States.

Franklin Mint issues are noted for their beauty, quality and artistic, historical and educational value, with particular emphasis on cultural and art issues. The firm is renowned for such series as The Genius of Michelangelo, Treasures of the Louvre, The 100 Greatest Masterpieces, The Genius of Rembrandt, and Robert's Birds.

The Pennsylvania based mint has introduced some of the World's great artists to the medallic medium. Original art for Franklin Mint programs has been created by such masters as Norman Rockwell, Andrew Wyeth, Bernard Buffet, Henry Moore, James Wyeth, Gilroy Roberts, Stevan Dohanos, Richard Evans Younger, Paul Vincze, Frank Gasparro, Edward Grove, Elizabeth Jones and Karen Worth.

Franklin Mint issues embrace a wide range of interest and take a variety of art forms, from coins of the realm to historical medal series, collector plates and commemorative ingots. These collector's items have enjoyed a growing demand among rapidly increasing number of collectors.

Membership is a unique, select organization — The Franklin Mint Collectors Society — of collectors possessing a particular interest in the mint's distinctive issues is available. Membership requires the payment of modest annual dues which entitle individuals to purchase special series and issues which are not made available to the public and other collectors.

Founded in 1970 with a membership of about 80,000, the Society now has more than 145,000 members. It maintains a special club room at The Franklin Mint and publishes a monthly publication — The Almanac — which keeps members informed of forthcoming issues and provides information on other matters of interest to collectors of medallic art.

Details about membership in The Franklin Mint Collectors Society may be obtained by writing to Dorothy Hayden, Secretary, c/o The Franklin Mint, Franklin Center, Pa. 19063.

HOW TO USE THIS CATALOG

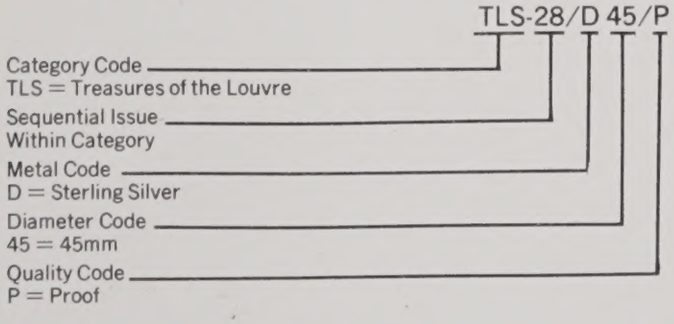

The purpose of the GUIDEBOOK OF FRANKLIN MINT ISSUES is to provide essential information on the issues produced by The Fraklin Mint over the years — 9,500 in all, beginning with the first offerings in 1965, through those of 1973.

Each guidebook listing provides users with complete data on size, metallic composition, year of issue, mintage, issue price and the market values in force at time of publication.

Listings are designed to provide all essential information on each issue in one place and in readily understandable terms. A system of letters and numbers developed by The Franklin Mint for maintaining its product records is used to identify each issue, and once the collector becomes familiar with the system, location of a series or an individual piece within the series is simple. In addition, all issues are indexed alphabetically by series or category, by subject and by sculptor. In a few cases, a series or category was changed after its inception, but this variation is explained in the introduction to the series.

FRANKLIN MINT CATALOG NUMBERING SYSTEM

In the Fraklin Mint number-letter code, the first three letters identify the category or series. Thus, the example below, which identifies a piece as TLS-28/D 45/P, shows it is an issue in the Treasures of the Louvre series. The numerical designation 28 marks it as the 28th medal in the series; the next letter reveals the metallic content — a D for sterling silver, in this case. The next element — a number — refers to the size in millimeters, and the last letter identifies quality of the strike, a P for proof in this instance.

EDGEMARKING AND HALLMARKING

Until 1968, most medals and tokens struck at The Franklin Mint had either plain or reeded edges. Commemorative society issues, certain series and individual specimens struck in limited edition, also included serial numbers. The first edition of The Franklin Mint Version of The Thomason Medallic Bible, issued during 1967-69, was also edge lettered with the title of the series, the metal content and the quality. Most gaming tokens struck by The Franklin Mint during 1965-69 used distinctive edge patterns of alternating blank and reeded segments.

On January 15, 1968. The Franklin Mint began hallmarking its proof quality medals. This method of attesting quality and integrity originated in 14th century England, when the London Guild of Goldsmiths first tested and marked objects made of precious metals as an assurance of their purity. The three basic styles of hallmarks used on proof quality Franklin Mint medals are illustrated below:

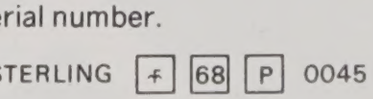

Hallmark of a proof specimen in non-precious metal.

Same, struck in precious metal.

Same with a serial number.

A proof-like medal with edgemarking can be readily distinguished from a proof by the fact that it lacks the P of the proof hallmark.

In 1973, Franklin Mint edgemarking was further refined, so that all markings are uniform. Proof specimens of Franklin Mint medals now bear a hallmark similar to the following:

STERLING © ℱ 73 P

The elements of this hallmark include the metal content, copyright symbol, mintmark, year of issue and P signifying proof status. If a serial number is included, it is separated from the remainder of the hallmark by a blank space. In some instances, the title of the series or other identification may also appear on the edge. The material mark will vary, of course, depending upon the metal content. Some silver medals and ingots may also include the weight in grains.

Proof-like and mint quality medals also bear edgemarkings but lack the P found on the hallmarked proof edition. Coin of the Realm does not bear edgemarkings but has plain or reeded edges normal to these specimens.

CONDITION

Most catalogs of coins and medals give valuation for specimens in several grades of condition. However, since Franklin Mint issues are not generally used as exchange media, they are not likely to be found in worn condition. Therefore, only the original condition or quality has been considered in evaluating issues in this guidebook. In a few cases, certain promotional issues and transportation tokens which did circulate are assigned a lower value than specimens of original quality.

Coin of the Realm

Official monetary coins have been struck by The Franklin Mint under authorization of seven foreign governments since 1969. Displaying nationally significant designs representing the distinctive floral and plant life forms, famous sites and personages, or the popular animals of the respective countries, the coins range in size from a minute 15mm to the massive 61mm (2 13/32") silver 20 Balboas of Panama.

COINAGE OF THE BAHAMAS

The Franklin Mint has struck the official monetary coinage of the Bahama Islands since 1970. Each year, 9-piece proof sets and uncirculated specimen sets have been offered to collectors. Since 1971 proof and uncirculated specimens of the Two-Dollar coin have been issued separately to mark its annual Flamingo Day. In 1973 a Ten Dollar coin was issued for the first time to commemorate Bahamian independence on July 10th. A first day cover combining the Ten-Dollar coin and a special stamp was also offered collectors for this event. The British artist, Arnold Machin, designed the coinage, but in 1972 the new coat of arms found on the Five-Dollar silver coin was designed by James Ferrell.

COINAGE OF JAMAICA

The six-piece proof set of Jamaican coins struck in 1970 at The Franklin Mint contained no silver coins. Paul Vincze designed the portrait of Sir Alexander Bustamante, first Prime Minister featured on the one-dollar coin while Christopher Ironside designed the obverses depicting Jamaican flora and fauna. The coat of arms is used on the reverse of the coins. A five-dollar coin in silver was added in 1971. It was designed by Philip Nathan and portrayed the late Right Excellent Norman W. Manley, Q. C., Jamaica's 1st Premier. In 1972 the design of this Five-Dollar silver coin was changed to a profile portrait of Manley designed by Ernest Lauser.

COINAGE OF PANAMA

The Five-Balboas Coin commemorating the XI Central American & Caribbean Games struck in 1970 was designed by Gilroy Roberts. This was the first sterling silver coin ever issued by the Republic of Panama and the first to commemorate these games.

In 1971 to commemorate the 150th anniversary of Central America Independence a Twenty-Balboas coin was designed and struck by The Franklin Mint. The obverse portrait of Simon Bolivar, "The Great Liberator," was designed by Harold Faulkner and the reverse coat of arms by Gilroy Roberts. Proof and uncirculated specimens were sold to collectors. At issue time, this was the largest and heaviest coin minted in the 20th century for circulation. In 1972 the legend on the obverse was changed.

COINAGE OF TUNISIA

In 1969 ten One Dinar proof coins were issued in a set by the Republic of Tunisia. The Franklin Mint was authorized to strike and sell to collectors 20,000 sets while the other 20,000 were struck and distributed in Italy. By a freak accident, only 15,202 sets were actually distributed by The Franklin Mint. The remaining 4,798 proof sets were damaged after the dies had been destroyed. All ten separate silver coins are legal tender at the One Dinar value in Tunisia, although it is doubtful any such proofs would reach circulation. The obverse design (sculptured by Vincenzo Gasperetti) on all ten coins portrays the Tunisian President, Habib Bourguiba while the reverses, which depict the 3,000-year history of the land, and these were sculptured by Bruno Bandoli and Wolfango Peretti-Poggi.

COINAGE OF TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO

Geoffrey Colley designed all six coins issued by this West Indies island-nation in 1971, with the exception of the reverse of the new Five-Dollar coin which was done by Ernest Lauser. In 1972, on the 10th anniversary of Trinidad & Tobago's independence, a 10-dollar denomination was added which was also designed by Lauser. Proof sets and uncirculated specimen sets were offered collectors in addition to coins put into circulation.

Tokens

The years 1965 through 1969 found The Franklin Mint involved in token production. Gaming tokens — 267 types in all — constituted the vast majority of these coin substitutes. They were introduced primarily for use in the Nevada casinos at a time when silver dollars were disappearing from circulation. Other issues were produced for admission, parking and transportation applications.

EDGE REEDING PATTERNS on gaming tokens

In order to make Gaming Tokens readily distinguishable in stacks, particularly in Nevada where there are many casinos, a unique edge pattern arrangement for alternating blank and reeded segments was devised by The Franklin Mint. "Pairs" refer to the number of blank and reeded groupings around the circumference of each token (see Photo). The "Blank" and "Reeded" columns in the accompanying table give the ratio of area devoted to each pattern in relationship to the overall circumference. In 1967, the U.S. Patent Office granted Patent No. 3350802 to protect this novel system.

ADMISSION TOKENS

Tokens have been used for admission purposes for hundreds of years. In 1967 admission tokens were minted for the Frontier Village, an amusement park, in San Jose, California as a souvenir and for the $1 admission fee.

In 1971 the Hollywood Dog Races in Florida authorized The Franklin Mint to strike its admission token. The obverse depicts the stadium and the reverse characterizes a racing dog.

GAMING TOKENS

United States silver dollars began disappearing from circulation in the early 1960's and by 1964 were selling at a premium due to the silver shortage. Gambling casinos were unable to keep an adequate supply of them. For the first time in history Nevada gambling establishments were authorized to issue their own private metal tokens for use on their gaming tables and machines. In July 1965 The Franklin Mint produced its first gaming token for Harrah's and made headlines in the numismatic market. From 1965 until 1969 contracts for 267 different private issue gaming tokens had been fulfilled. In addition to those put into circulation, proof sets of these gaming tokens were offered to share holders of General Numismatics Corporation and some were used for presentation sets both by GNC and the various casinos. Not only were these minted for establishments in our country where gambling is legal but also for foreign countries. By 1969 complete proof sets were offered to Franklin Mint collectors on a subscription basis. Denominations included 50c, $1, $2, $2.50, $5 and foreign denominations. Metals used included Brass, Franklinium, Nickel, Silver, Silver-clad, and sterling proofs.

With a new silverless dollar for our country being authorized by Congress, The Franklin Mint discontinued its prolific production of gaming tokens at the end of 1969, but it had indeed made history. These tokens will stand the test of time in metal to record another coin shortage that was relieved by the lowly token.

TRANSPORTATION TOKENS

People who specialize in collecting Transportation tokens are called Vecturists, a term derived from the Latin vectura, meaning passage money. This kind of token has long been used on various modes of transportation such as horsedrawn carriages, buses, street cars, and for bridge tolls and drayage fares.

In 1967 The Franklin Mint produced parking tokens for the Darby Chamber of Commerce in Darby, Pennsylvania.

In 1970 the following tokens were issued: Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge; Atlantic City Expressway (Atlantic City - Philadelphia) and (Pleasantville Plaza); Belleair Causeway, Florida; Mt. Hope Bridge, Rhode Island; Newport Bridge, Rhode Island; and Broad Causeway, Florida. A test token was minted by The Franklin Mint for the Delaware River Port Authority in 1971.

Commemorative Issues

Founded as a specialist in the production of high quality commemorative medal issues, The Franklin Mint has not relaxed its emphasis in this area. Several commemorative society and priority series are produced by the firm to uniform standards at designated intervals. A wide diversity of commemorative themes are evident, ranging from the story of the Bible and Christ to man in space, and from dentistry to the history of law.

THE FRANKLIN MINT COLLECTION OF THE ANTIQUE CAR COINS SERIES

The first set of twenty-five antique car coins was issued in 1968 and the second set in 1969. Both were offered to collectors in platinum, sterling silver and commercial bronze. Additionally, aluminum specimens were issued for use in a promotional program of the Sun Oil Company. Bronze sets were offered as prizes for their program. In 1970 a third series of antique car coins was issued for collectors only.

CCS

CATHOLIC COMMEMORATIVE MEDAL SOCIETY SERIES

The CCS follows the same format as the National Commemorative Society (NCS) except that its medals are issued bi-monthly in silver proof rather than monthly. It honors the individuals and commemorates the events that are Catholicism. Its first six medals honored the Ecumenical Popes. Then followed two medals by special subscription — one honoring Cardinal Spellman and a second one, the Prince of Peace. Total subscriptions to this society are 1,898 although the two special medals were struck in quantities of 3,796 and additionally, the Spellman medal was also issued in nickel silver with a mintage of 2,081. Subsequent series — TAS, LMS, LCS are sponsored by the CCS.

GREAT HISTORIC SITES SERIES

This series pays tribute to a historic site in each of our 50 states. It was the first series of medallic first day covers ever issued by The Franklin Mint. The series began late in 1970 and each of the first day covers were postmarked on the medal's issuance at the U.S. Post Office serving the historic site commemorated. A total of 8966 proof sets were minted in sterling silver.

KINGS AND QUEENS OF ENGLAND

Honoring the 43 monarchs of England from Edward the Confessor, this series was inaugurated by John Pinches Ltd. of London, a Franklin Mint affiliate. The reverse of each medal portrays the heraldic shield of the monarch portrayed on the obverse. Mintage figures of 6713 sterling silver sets plus one platinum set include only those minted by The Franklin Mint for its subscribers in the United States. Other editions are minted in England and Canada.

FRANKLIN MINT LANDMARKS OF AMERICA SERIES

Although this series of small medals (26mm) was minted in 1969, it was not offered to collectors at that time. It was initially used as a premium series by the Sun Oil Company. Issued in aluminum and commercial bronze, the series depicts twenty points of interest most frequently visited in the United States. The common reverse carries an outline map of the United States.

NATIONAL COMMEMORATIVE SOCIETY SERIES

The National Commemorative Society, formed in 1964, offers its subscribers a series of medals commemorating subjects selected by its members. Subscription rolls closed at 5,252. Three platinum medals were struck in addition to the sterling silver proofs each month through the first fifty selections after which all of the medals were struck in sterling silver. All except the first five medals were struck by The Franklin Mint. Many subsequent medallic societies were patterned after the National Commemorative Society.

PROJECT APOLLO SERIES

A set of 20 medals which depict each of the various stages of the Apollo moon mission were minted in 1970. A total of 4967 sets were issued containing silver that was thought to have been carried around the moon. After learning this to be incorrect, The Franklin Mint requested the subscribers to return their medals for destruction. The replacement medals were struck from a special lot of silver containing metal that was personally carried by the astronauts around the moon. As of 1972, a total of 3698 of the original sets had been returned for replacement. A small horizontal line was added above the mintmark to designate the replacement medals from the originals.

FRANKLIN MINT PRESIDENTIAL MINI-COINS SERIES

In 1969, The Franklin Mint issued its first set of "mini-medals" measuring 10mm. The obverses depicted the same presidential portraits by Hal Faulkner as found on the Presidential Series, PRS. The common reverse is the Presidential Seal. The thirty-six miniature medals were packaged in a presentation case with a magnifying glass.

FRANKLIN MINT PRESIDENTIAL SERIES

The Franklin Mint Presidential Series of medals were presented in a variety of sizes. The 39mm and 32mm were issued in 1967. In 1968 a 26mm size was issued and in 1969 a 10mm size (See Presidential Mini-coins). All sizes have similar designs on the obverses but the reverses of the 26mm and 10mm are different from the 39mm and 32mm sizes. The 39mm size issued in 1970 was sold through the American Express Company.

FIFTY STATE BICENTENNIAL

Honoring the 200th anniversary of our country's founding, this series pays tribute to each of our 50 states. Designs for these medals were chosen from a nation-wide contest with over 13,000 entries. Advance subscribers received the 39mm proof in sterling silver. However, some of the 20,440 sets are reserved for presentation and medals in various sizes, metals, and finishes may be minted for individual states as determined by participating State Bicentennial Commissions.

THE FRANKLIN MINT VERSION OF THE THOMASON MEDALLIC BIBLE

This series contains 60 medals which portray important events of Biblical times. The Franklin Mint prepared a new version of the nineteenth century Bible medals with newly engraved obverses and newly selected Bible quotations on the reverses. The engraving was done by Fritz Weiland, an old world master engraver. Sterling silver and bronze proofs were issued in 1967 while a bronze mint edition was issued in 1970.

GREETING CARD ISSUES

Each year The Franklin Mint has issued one or more medallic greeting cards to mark the occasion of Christmas. Hanukkah greeting cards were added in 1970. The first card in 1965 was a peace design created by Gilroy Roberts. Each year one of the Christmas greeting cards carries the peace theme. The 1965 greeting card is the most actively sought after and most highly prized by collectors of this series.

INAUGURAL MEDALS

The Inaugural Committee commissioned The Franklin Mint to strike the official 1973 Presidential Inaugural Medal. Official Inaugural Medals date from William McKinley's second inauguration in 1901. Forerunners of the medals were issued in 1893 and 1897 in the form of medallic badges. The official medals for 1973 were struck in two sizes, 70mm and 64mm, and in a variety of metals and finishes. Gilroy Roberts sculptured the jugate busts of Nixon and Agnew.

MEDALLIC YEARBOOK SERIES

The most significant historical event of each month is recorded medallically in this series. A distinguished panel of historians, journalists, and news analysts selected each event. The obverse of each medal features a pictorial representation of the chosen moment of history and the reverse concisely details it. The 45mm sterling silver proofs were reserved for members of The Franklin Mint Collectors Society.

OLYMPIC MEDAL ISSUES

In 1971 three medals were created to honor members of our U.S. teams who participated in the VI Pan-American Games, the XI Winter Games, and the XX Summer Games. All three medals had a common reverse while the obverses depicted Olympic athletes. All participating athletes who represented the United States at these games received a sterling silver proof for the game in which they participated. U.S. Olympic contributors and FM collectors were afforded the opportunity to purchase specimens. A public sale of proof-like medals helped raise funds to take U.S. athletes to the XX Olympiad.

ST. PATRICKS DAY ISSUE

Saint Patrick's Day Issues commemorate important events in the Life of St. Patrick. Each annual medal is issued in a cachet which is postmarked in Ireland on St. Patrick's Day. The medals are struck from silver mined in Ireland and since so little silver is found there, approximately a month's supply of silver from Irish mines is required to strike each year's medals.

Art Series

As a master form of artistic expression, medals have fascinated artists and collectors alike for centuries. The essence of this appeal is best captured in the art medal form where the sculptor, freed of thematic, textual and relief demands, has an unrestrained opportunity for artistic expression. The Franklin Mint has been serving that interest since 1970, during which time it has unveiled several medal series exclusively dedicated to artistic expression, rather than commemorative themes.

SCULPTOR STUDIO COLLECTION

The sculptors of The Franklin Mint studio were given free reign as to the subject matter which comprises this special series. Each month an original work of art is issued. The reverse of each medal carries the sculptor's signature and his title of the creation which is found on the obverse. This collection of 51mm medals is minted in sterling silver and bronze. Members of The Franklin Mint Collectors Society were offered the opportunity to subscribe to the proof edition. Proof-like bronze specimens are sold in The Franklin Mint Gift Shops.

THE GENIUS OF MICHELANGELO SERIES

The 500th anniversary of the birth of Michelangelo, the great Florentine sculptor and painter, will be celebrated in 1975. In honor of his artistic genius The Franklin Mint commissioned Piero Monassi of Italy to create a collection of sixty art medals depicting the works of Michelangelo. Promotional Issues

Several business builder "game coin" and premium token series have been struck by The Franklin Mint for promotional use by national and international business firms. Most series were based on the Shell "Mr. President Coin Game" launched in 1968, which utilized special "Instant Winner" tokens entitling the recipient to redeem his coin immediately for a prize. Large quantities were struck for general distribution and presentation sets were also produced.

ANTIQUE CAR COIN GAME

The Antique Car Game was distributed by the Sun Oil Company in 1969. There were two series of twenty-five car medals which can easily be distinguished by the reverses. Some specimens also carried an "Instant Winner" reverse which indicated that they could be redeemed for prizes.

Ingot Issues

Man has long used ingot, or bar fabrication of silver and gold as a convenient means of rendering the precious metals for storage. The form was advanced another step in 1970 when The Franklin Mint added the element of medallic design, introducing a 50 bank ingot series, the first Christmas ingot and another unique issue produced from the last silver sold from the U.S. Treasury stockpile. Most ingots weigh 1,000 grains, but some go as high as 1,000 grams (about 15,448 grains).

BCI

OFFICIAL BICENTENNIAL INGOT COLLECTION

The Bicentennial Council of the Thirteen Original States is sponsoring a series of ingots which honor the most significant events of the American Revolution. Each ingot is enclosed in a cachet which bears the postmark of the place where the struggle for independence occurred exactly two hundred years ago, whether in the thirteen original states, England, France or Canada.

1000-GRAIN BANK INGOTS

In 1970, The Franklin Mint offered collectors a new type of collection — 1000-grain sterling silver ingots from 50 different banks, one from each state. Banks could also obtain individual ingots for distribution to their depositors. Subsequent collections, but with different banks, were made available in 1971, 1972, 1973 and 1974.

Collector Plates

Limited edition collector's plates have been seriously collected for nearly a century. Prior to 1970 when The Franklin Mint introduced its first sterling silver plate issue for the Christmas season after designs by Norman Rockwell, most such offerings were made of porcelain, china or crystal. Since that time the firm has produced and distributed a wide range of etched design and bas-relief struck plates.

UNIVERSITY AND ALUMNI PLATE ISSUES

The old school tie is an American tradition. Some colleges and universities have authorized The Franklin Mint to issue sterling plates bearing the university seal or a campus scene inlaid in 24K gold. These limited edition remembrances are usually only available to faculty and alumni of the participating schools.

CHRISTMAS ORNAMENT ISSUES

In 1966 The Franklin Mint issued its first collection of Christmas ornaments. These were nickel silver medals encased in an ornament suitable for tree decorating. These medals depicted "The Twelve Days of Christmas." Two new editions in 1970 were minted in sterling silver and in bronze. In 1971, The Franklin Mint began issuing an annual medallic Christmas ornament highlighting well known Christmas carols.

FINE ART PLAQUES

From time to time, The Franklin Mint has issued fine art plaques for wall decorations. The first plaque was a memorial to John F. Kennedy by Gilroy Roberts, who designed the Kennedy portrait on the U.S. fifty cent piece. Roberts' zodiac series was also issued as individual fine art plaques in both silver and bronze. Other notable sculptors have also designed or sculptured fine art plaques

APOSTLE SPOONS

Apostle spoons were first created in the 15th century and have since become a treasured collector's item. Reviving this tradition in 1973, The Franklin Mint began issuing Apostle spoons with the Apostles depicted on the handles and a portion of the Apostles Creed etched into the bowl of each spoon.

TWELVE DAYS OF CHRISTMAS SPOONS

A departure from numismatic issues, this first set of 12 "Christmas" spoons in 1972 depicts lines from the famous Christmas carol on each. Established Franklin Mint collectors could order the set in sterling or gold on sterling with designer Carlos Sierra Fonseca's signature on the reverse of the set in 24KT gold on sterling.
